By this evening it is expected there will be 500 coal and fron policemen on duty at this and other plants of the Carnegie Steel Company at Homestead and Braddock. Last midnight there were about 200 pickets waiting for the night force to come out of the plant for midnight lunch. Anticipating there would be some trouble, the officials of the company sent in $600 sandwiches and quantities of coffee for the

RAILROAD BOAT ENGINEMEN GO OUT IN NEW YORK STRIKE

Worst Tie-up in Harbor History Threatened by Leaders

NEW YORK, May 3.—The engine crews of 1500 boats of the Pennsylvania, Lackawanna, Jersey Central and B. and O. Railroads were called out today in the marine enginemen's strike. Strike leaders are attempting to induce the engine crews off all the railroad ferryboats to pult work, and they predicted that, within the next 24 hours. New York harbor would be tied up as never before. Thus far 1900 men have struck, affecting 200 tuges. Thousands of tons of freight are piling up on the New York wharves, with but slight possibility of being moved, because of the strike. It is feared four trans-atlantic liners due tomorrow will have frouble docking. Much of the freight held up is munitions for the Allies on the Brooklyn, Heboken and Jersey Ctly piers, whose freight sheds are full. Some of the Jersey City and Hoboken freight is perishable foodstuffs.

Five thousand men and women, who will act as pickets in the strike of $5,000 garment workers, which goes into effect tomorrow, were organized today by the union, and will be scattered throughout the city as long as the labor troubles

Benjamin Schlesinger, president of the Garment Makers Union, said that the strike would have the support of all divisions of organized labor, including the

COMMON LABORERS' STRIKE HALT PRINCETON BUILDING

Construction of Dining Hall and $500,000 Home Stopped

PRINCETON, N. J., May 2 .- More than 150 workers on various construction enterprises struck here last night, halting a large part of work on the Rockefeller Institute, the Princeton University dining halls and the new 40-room, $500,000 home, heing erected by Gerard Lambert of the

by the Matthews Construction Company, which says it will be impossible to concede the demands of the strikers. It is expected that it will be unnecessary to mport new workers, as the strike is entirely confined to the unskilled laborers.

There has been no disturbance in town and no trouble is anticipated. A union has been formed by the strikers, but it is very poorly organized. The emands of the men include an eight-hour day and the increase of pay from 23 to 28 cents an hour.

800 JOIN SYMPATHY STRIKE FOR HARVESTER PLANT MEN

Situation More Serious as Violence Starts in Chicago

CHICAGO, May 2 .- With more than 5000 men out and sympathetic strikes spreading in several other plants, Chica-go's labor situation assumed serious asgo's labor situation assumed serious as-pect today. Eight hundred employes of the Illinois Malleable Iron Works have pany's strikers.

Police coreons were thrown about both plants today in anticipation of a continuance of the violence which began last night, when Charles Seidler, a foreman, was severely beaten by a mob.

Lancaster Carmen Get Advance LEBANON, Pa., May 2.—The American Iron and Steel Manufacturing Company today announced a voluntary increase of wages of from 5 to 10 per cent. for all men employed at its Lebanon and Reading plants. The company at present em-ploys 1000 men and boys at its two plants, and the increase effective today is the second given them since the first of the year. The company's payroll at present amounts to $2,500.000 annually.

Anaconda's Output Record

NEW YORK, May 2.—In April the production of the Anaconda Copper Mining Company amounted to 33,300,000 pounds of copper, compared with 28,600,000 pounds in March, 23,300,000 pounds in pounds in March, 23,300,000 pounds in February and 23,200,000 in January. In April of last year the output amounted to 21,800,000 pounds. The output of Ana-conda for April establishes the greatest production in the history of the company. The former record was made in Feb-ruary, 1912, when the production amounted to 26,800,000 pounds.

Both brothers declare there's not a jail in any big city east or west of the Mis-sisulppi that they haven't been in. In nearly all cases their detention was due to over-indulgence in vari-colored liquids. The glisetning nose of such bears docu-mentary evidence in this connection.

The same fate which parted the brothers years ago worked in its magical way and managed to bring them to this city special cars. Bill was found at Sc ond and Christian streets trying to hold up the side of a house, and Tom was discovered on Delaware avenue sleeping dangerously near the water's edge. Both were hustled off to the Second and Christion streets station.

FISH AND FISHERMEN

CAME fish anglers look for a much dearlier run of striped bass or rorkfish in nearby waters this year than usual, their hopes being based upon the large numbers of these big fish taken by market fishermen last week in Maryland and Virginia waters, specimens of which, weighing up to 50 pounds each, were shipped to the Philadelphia markets.

weighing up to 50 pounds each, were shipped to the Philadelphia markets. Anglers who know the habits of the striped bass or rockfish do not, as a rule, look for them to bits lively until about the middle of May, but the catches will cause hundreds of fishermen to scurry off to the famous angling grounds for these fish, viz: lower Susquehanna River. Ches-ter River. Maryland and the Chesapeake Hay southwards from Kent Island nar-rows to points below the mouth of the Severn River. The lower Maurice River, in New Jersey, is also an angling ground for striped bass.

The proper lures for this fish are blood worms and small live eels. Just as soon as they begin to take hold lively in the lower Susquehanna River, Fred Irwin, the veteran anglers' guide on those fishing grounds, will flush the news to his many friends in Philadelphiat to come down and Harry Souders, of Millville, N. J., booked several fine rockfish, or strined bass, in the lower reaches of the Maurice River last week. Doctor Willite, of Port Elimbeth, N. J., recently casent a number of striped bass in tributary of the Maurice River, near his home. The last week of the Maurice River, near his home are coming of the Maurice River, near his home are coming in the lower Dolaware Ray and in Dividing Creek in large numbers. Everett A. Schofeld, 1510 Oxford street. Philadelphia, went down to the lower Chiesapeak: Hay flehing grounds Saturday to try for striped bass.

SALT WATER FISHING

A small army of anglers went shoreward last Sunday to angle in the bays and sounds for flounders and tautog. Several boats of the fishing fleet took out a hum-ber of anglers to the deep sea banks, where they tried for sea bass and porgles. These fish, however, have not yet arrived off the Jersey coast, and the only catches made y these anglers were a few flounders and croakers. Those who fished in the inland waters fared better, many of them making big catches of tautog and flounders. The stone jettles at Sewells Point were the best made so far this season.

the best made so far this season.

Surf fishermen were in evidence at many points slong the Jersey coast last wesk-end, especially at Avalon. Beach Haven and Ocean City, trying out their new surf casting rods.

P. V. Morris, 823 Perklomen street, Philadelphia, will go shoreward this week to open his cottage at Beach Arlington for the summer. Mr. Morris is an expert angler, and has purchased a new supply of tackle for weak fishing in the bays and sounds along the Jersey coast.

Cantains Shivers, Maines, Laboure and Captains Shivers: Haines, Johnson and Ap-legate, of the Anglesea fishing freet, are get-ing their boats in readiness to take angless to the famous fishing banks off that place as oon as the seabars and pergles begin to bite.

How to Angle for Carp The many fishermen who visit nearby tidewater streams to angle for carp will be interested in the following short talk on the proper lures for this fish by Joseph nan, of 1110 Brown street, Philadel-Mr. Hoffman knows all about carp and is considered by many fisherman to be the champion carp angler in Philadelphia.

Mr. Hoffman says: "I use nothing more than comment and large canned peas, using the comment lure on one line and the canned peas on another. Each pea must be pierced and placed in honey for

The cornment is prepared as follows: The cornment is prepared as follows:
"To every cup of cornment add one tablespoonful of New Orleans molasses and a quarter ounce of calamus root; boil together for 114 hours, then work into a dough and use just enough of the dough to cover the hook, as the carp have very small mouths.
"The hook, of course, should be small, too. When a carp takes the buit, he never jerks the line—just draws it, and the angler should not be too quick on the job, but wait until he can feel the carn mouth' the hair, and then with a slich; jerk of your wrist you will have him. Do not let the carp have any slack line.

'It is common for me, using the above baits, to get 10, 12, 16 and 18 pound carp. The above bait is only used by me during the spawning period. When the fish have done spawning. I use another lure, the recipe for which I will give some other time. I single for carp as late as Christmas and then quit, as by that time I judge they are in deep water.

J. W. Heritage, Alonzo Becket and William Thatcher, of Wenonsh, N. J., are planning fishing trips to nearby streams for pickerel as soon as the season opens
